Thank you for choosing MobiLife Ltd. to help you take care of your family. MobiLife is a financial services provider and administrator of your policy, but the policy is issued by Guardrisk Life Limited (“Guardrisk”). Guardrisk is a registered long term insurance provider. Your rights and options

Cooling-off period

As a long term insurance provider we are required to refund your premiums if you cancel your policy within 30 days of paying your first premium.

However, we at MobiLife have extended this to 90 days! All we ask is that you provide us with feedback as to why you are cancelling your policy. You will lose all benefits under the policy. If you cancel your policy at any time after the 90 days your premiums will not be refunded.

Your responsibilities

Premiums

Your policy schedule shows the insurance premium you must pay to maintain the full cover. We will collect the premiums from your bank account by debit order. The premium is payable monthly in advance. If there are insufficient funds in the account you are giving MobiLife authority to track your account using a flexible PASA approved collection method and re-resend the instruction for payment as soon as sufficient funds are available in the account.

We will never lapse your policy if you are unable to pay a premium!

If you cannot afford a premium in any month you can skip that premium on our self-service website. If you skip a premium your policy will never lapse, but the value of the policy benefit will be reduced proportionately. Your benefit will be reduced by the percentage of total premiums missed in the 12 months before the date of claim.

If we are unable to collect the full amount of your monthly premium then we may collect a partial premium in order to help you avoid losing the policy benefits and paying unnecessary penalties to your bank.

When your selected payment day falls on a weekend or public holiday we will deduct your premium on the last office day before. If you cancel your policy less than 7 days before your next premium is due we may deduct your next premium and provide you with another 30 days of cover.

Personal information consent

MobiLife and Guardrisk require access to some of your personal information to administer your policy. In terms of the Protection of Personal Information Act of 2013 we require your consent to do so. When you bought the policy you gave us your consent to use your personal information as well as to contact data bureaus to enhance certain data items. We will maintain this information with the necessary security, and will protect your privacy. MobiLife will never sell your personal information to other parties or use it for other purposes than what it was required for, this includes contacting you to maintain your policy or to offer our other products. As we are using best in class service providers, such as Google, it may be that some of the information will be stored in servers outside of South Africa. If you want to revoke this permission, please cancel your policy on the self-service website.

All your information can be seen on the self-service website and you can make any changes there.

We always try to detect fraud to protect our customers. If MobiLife detects any possible suspicious activity relating to your policy, we will contact you. If you cannot provide the necessary information we need within 30 days we reserve the right to cancel your policy.

Our obligations to you

When your cover starts

The life assured's cover starts on the day we receive your first premium.

1 Year renewable

Your Funeral Plan policy will be renewable every year on the policy anniversary. At this time MobiLife may make changes to bring your policy up to date with our latest rules, terms and conditions. MobiLife will contact you so that you can choose the benefit and premium for the following year. As the life assured will be older at that time, the premium rates will be higher. The policy may not be renewed after the life assured's 75th birthday.

Benefit

You are the owner of the Funeral Plan policy and the person you are buying the policy for is the main life assured of the policy. To ensure insurable interest the death benefit will only be paid out if the life assured's relationship to you is one of the following:

- Grandmother/Grandfather
- Mother/Father
- Brother/Sister
- Spouse
- Child
- Grandchild
- Employee

The death benefit on your policy will be a once off monetary payment to the beneficiary. In this event, the policy will no longer continue after the benefit has been paid.

The value of the death benefit is shown in your policy schedule. If you skipped premiums in the year before your claim, then the benefit value will be reduced proportionately to the amount of premiums missed in the 12 months preceding the date of death.

You may not select a total sum assured across all your MobiLife Funeral Plan policies of more than R200,000. If your total is more MobiLife will contact you to reduce this. The Insurer reserves the right to cancel this policy at any time by giving the client 30 days' notice. Policies will not be unfairly cancelled.

Cancelling your policy

It is not necessary to cancel your policy if you cannot afford to pay a premium. You may simply skip that premium and start paying again when you can afford it. However, if you do wish to cancel your policy, you can do so at any time on our self-service website.

How to Claim

Claims may be submitted on the www.mobi.co.za website or by contacting us at claims@mobi.co.za. Mobilife will require a copy of the death certificate, plus a copy of the identity document of the life assured claimed for. If we believe it is necessary, we may also ask for additional information and we reserve the right to do so.

Waiting period

There is a waiting period for natural death from the start of your policy for 6 months after the inception date of your policy. During this waiting period we will only accept a claim if the life assured's death was accidental. A natural death will only be covered where the date of death is in the period after the waiting period has expired. We will never pay a claim for death that was due to suicide or participation in illegal activities. We may cancel a policy or decline a claim in the event of fraudulent activity or significant misrepresentation. We only provide cover within the borders of South Africa, and will only pay a claim if supported by a death certificate issued by a South African authority.

If you increase the benefit of your Funeral Plan policy at any time, the increased portion will be subject to a waiting period for 6 months for natural death after the date of increase. If your benefit is changed then the change only becomes effective once you pay your first revised premium. If you start paying premiums again after skipping more than 4 consecutive premiums a new waiting period of 4 months for natural death will be applied.
